

DARON JOFFE AND TONY SEICHRIST

Daron Joffe directs the biodynamic Serenbe Farms. Tony Seichrist is chef at The Farmhouse, the restaurant at Serenbe Southern Country Inn. "It's unique to have a chef be so tied into a farm," says Farmer D, as Joffe is called. Seichrist explains his "what-grows-together-goes-together" approach like this: "Anything we've got that's ripe at one time will end up on a plate together." Chef and gardener share each other's passions. "You can't be a good farmer and not be a foodie," Joffe says. Adds Seichrist, "I'm trying to stop gardening so much because I don't have time. But I still supplement what we serve here with produce from my own place down the road."
