SERENBE FARMS INITIATES COMMUNITY-SUPPORTED AGRICULTURE (CSA) PROGRAM

Daron “Farmer D” Joffee, Director of the Serenbe Organic Farm, has initiated a subscription CSA to link local growers and community members. Through seasonal subscriptions, growers provide CSA members with weekly fresh vegetable selections. Farmer D encourages those interested in participating as either a consumer or a grower to contact him at Serenbe Farms 770-463-9319 or by email at farmerd@serenbe.com. You can also subscribe to his weekly farm e-newsletter by sending him an email.

Daron is managing the 30-acre Serenbe certified organic farm according to biodynamic and organic sustainable agriculture methods. He indicates that the farms’ three primary goals are to grow the highest quality organic produce, to provide hands-on education and meaningful recreation for people of all ages, and to give back to the community. He welcomes and rewards volunteers who are interested in helping on the organic farm or at the farmers market. As part of his education mission, Daron and a three other farmers recently held a farm education session for 30 children aged 8–11 years old.

Farmer D is committed to helping the Chattahoochee Hill Country accomplish its mission of establishing a truly sustainable community by helping other local growers succeed as well. He is currently chairing the Agriculture Committee of the CHC Alliance, and would welcome your participation.
